

The Demonstration Garden

a Public Educational Garden adopted by the Los Alamos Master Gardeners' Club in conjunction with the Los Alamos County Parks Department

The Los Alamos Master Gardeners' Club is in its tenth year of adoption of this County garden. We have contributed many volunteer hours and other resources (including Club funds) to improve and expand the Garden. Our goals are to promote knowledgeable, effective, and safe horticultural practices consistent with the Cooperative Extension Service, and to promote goodwill in our community. Many of the most recent additions were funded through a grant received through the Citizen-County Partnership program. The CCP was a competitive proposal process by which the County selected and funded two recreational improvement projects within the County. Part of the proposal requirements was matching contributions from the proposing organization. We have matched the funds received dollar for dollar with either volunteer labor (more than 3000 hours in the past two years!) or with expenditures of Club funds.

For more information about the Master Gardener Program, the Club, or the Demonstration Garden, please contact the Cooperative Extension Office at 662-2656. We hope that you enjoy the Garden!
