NEW MEXICO STATE UNIVERSITY

MASTER GARDENER CLASS

Coming January 2027

Learn • Connect • Share

Learn the ART and SCIENCE of gardening in our area

EXPLORE THE GARDENING SCIENCES

- Soil health
- Basic botany
- Tree care
- Fruit & nut production
- Vegetable gardening
- Ornamentals
- Irrigation
- Plant identification
- Weed management
- Plant pathology
- Entomology
- Turf care

SCAN FOR PROGRAM INFORMATION

HOW THE CLASS WORKS

- 15-week online class beginning in January
- About 5–6 hours of coursework weekly
- Videos, handouts, pre-quizzes and post-quizzes
- Thursday live Zoom Q&A (recorded)

TUITION

$200 Volunteer track

$300 Non-volunteer track

Payable to Los Alamos Master Gardeners

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

Los Alamos County residents age 18+
Reliable internet and basic computer skills

REGISTRATION & SUPPORT

Registration opens November 15
Need-based scholarships available
Limited first-week refunds in special cases

BECOME A MASTER GARDENER

30 volunteer hours by November 15 in year one
Volunteer in gardens, outreach, plant sales, presentations, the county fair and more.
Thereafter: 15 volunteer + 10 continuing education hours annually to maintain membership.

If you are an individual with a disability who is in need of an auxiliary aid or service to participate, please contact Los Alamos Cooperative Extension in advance at (505) 662-2656 or losalamos@nmsu.edu.

LOS ALAMOS COOPERATIVE EXTENSION

1251 Bathtub Row • (505) 662-2656 • losalamos@nmsu.edu

BE BOLD. Shape the Future. New Mexico State University

New Mexico State University is an equal opportunity employer and educator.
NMSU and the U.S. Department of Agriculture cooperating.